1. US News & World Report

1. We are now ranked the 11th best health law program in the USA (March 2017). US News and World Report is the most visible and widely used national ranking of law schools and law school programs.
2. Our rank has been going up every year. We were 12th last year and 13th the year before that.
3. We are examining the top 10 health law programs to see what they are doing. That way, we might identify things that we can consider emulating. For example, do they have a specialty health law journal, named lectures?
